My Running Hero

Two years ago, I lost my leg in a car accident. I felt very angry because I couldn't play like before. Then I saw this documentary. It was about a young Canadian man named Terry Fox. When Terry was at university, he learned he had bone cancer. In 1977, his right leg was cut off because of his cancer. Terry was only 18 years old! Even after losing his leg, Terry was still active. He liked to run. He decided to run across Canada to raise money for cancer research. He ran every day. He ran 5,373 km in 143 days before his cancer returned. People called his run the Marathon of Hope. Sadly, he died in 1981. Now the 'Terry Fox Run' is held every year. People across the world run to raise money for cancer research. Although Terry had only one leg, he was positive, active, and inspiring. I want to be like Terry!
