An Interesting Place to Visit

Did you know that giants like to make jokes? There's an interesting legend in Croatia. Giants went to a valley to build large towns. But they had a few spare stones. What did they do? The giants built a tiny town beside the valley. Just for fun! That town was Hum. It was built in the 11th century. Hum is the smallest town in the world, only 100 meters long! It has about 28 people and two streets. It consists of about 20 buildings including two churches, a post office, a restaurant, and a museum. It has walls all around. A gate is at the front of the town. Does all this sound interesting? Then go to Hum and take a closer look! A tour around the town takes only 10 minutes. On foot!
