My Summer Journal: The Untold Story of Son Heung-min

Last summer, my friend and I had a fun trip to Chuncheon, the hometown of Son Heung-min, a famous football star in Korea. We traveled through the city, looking at its landmarks and local attractions. Our relaxation time was often spent in local cafes, learning about the culture.

While we were hanging out, bonding over food and music, we met an old man who said he was Son's first coach. He shared memories of a young Son, always ready for football. Son's teamwork was great, and he always helped others. One rainy day, on an old, damaged soccer pitch, the coach found Son playing football alone, getting really good at control. This incident made the coach strongly believe in Son's potential. The coach then showed us a photograph. A young Son, holding a trophy near a beach. It was from a local festival competition where Son showed off his talent and leadership.

By the end of our road trip, I already knew that Son wasn't just a star. He was a committed boy from Chuncheon who became a legend because of his passion and hardworking.
