A Mysterious Land

Hi, I'm Jake. I visited Mongolia this summer. Mongolia is in Asia, between Russia and China. It is surrounded by land. Mongolia was closed off from the world, so its people were a mystery. Now, it is open to tourists. I enjoyed camping with a Mongolian family in their "ger." This is a dome-shaped tent. There were rugs on the wooden floors. A stove was placed in the center for heat and cooking meals. Some tents also had electricity and solar panels. I learned that many Mongolian families live in gers. They raise animals and eat lots of meat and milk. I was there during their largest festival, Naadam. Naadam takes place in the summer and focuses on sports and games. I participated in horse races with some Mongolian children. It was so much fun!
